I can't remember the first time
I relied on you
I feel like it's gotta leave
When everything said I remember
What it's worth

Worn down from the stress of consciousness
Let me out, let me out
Let me out of this mind, I'm lost without you
I feel lost, but I can't believe that it's happening
(The imagination's overwhelming)
The last time I could ever look back at you
(Can you feel it?)
I feel lost, but I believe that everything is gonna be fine
(We'll be just fine)

I've been walking through the unknown
It all relies on you
I feel like it's gotta leave
I feel scared, lost and alone
Misery is calling me!

Worn down from the stress of consciousness
I'm lost without you
I feel lost, but I can't believe that it's happening
(The imagination's overwhelming)
The last time I could ever look back at you
(Can you feel it?)
I feel lost, but I believe that everything is gonna be fine
(We'll be just fine)

Open thine eyes to the world
The imagination's overwhelming
Open thine eyes to the world
The imagination's overwhelming
Open your eyes!
To the world!
Open your eyes!
Open your eyes!
