"Drones"

There is a glow at the horizon
The night's leaving, day is soon to come Upon first gaze, the glory of the sun is all too overwhelming
As the shadows cast unto the earth
It's all overwhelming, it's all overwhelming
They are seen!

Is this reality? Could this be happening?
The world slept at peace and awoke to the end
The lifeless beasts are closing in
Is this reality? Could this be happening?

Through the cracks the light shines to cast a view of what lies ahead
Through apparitions dancing with the flickering light
It's all overwhelming, it's all overwhelming
They are seen!

Is this reality? Could this be happening?
The world slept at peace and awoke to the end
The lifeless beasts are closing in
Is this reality? Could this be happening?

We must run, we must survive
