"The Light"

Brighten my soul, come and lift me off of my feet
Believe in anything that gives this all a meaning Captivate and inspire what we can change to be anything
Anything you imagine

Inside that heart is the strength to change the world
Inside that heart is the strength to change the world

Brighten your soul, come and I'll lift you off of your feet
Believe in anything that gives this all a meaning
When you reach your end this will all be real again
The strength to change the world

Inside that heart is the strength to change the world
Inside that heart is the strength to change the world

When you reach your end you'll lift me

Brighten my soul, come and lift me off of my feet
Inside that heart is the strength to change the world
