"My Tragedy"

I'm drowning in your unrequited love
And my attempts to reach you are in vain.

All I have done is for you
Maybe I'm too weak to fight for more.
The rivers of my tears are so deep,
I'm not able to cross them all.
I just need more time to show you my sacrifice for you, my goddess.

This is the beginning of my tragedy
And I feel the hope is leaving me
This is the beginning of my tragedy
And I'm lost in your closed arms.

I'm standing by my window at night
I'm listening to the rain and I see the black light.
The rain is falling on the ground
The earth is dark and so is my soul

This is the beginning of my tragedy
And I feel the hope is leaving me
This is the beginning of my tragedy
And I'm lost in your closed arms.
