In the end you will be alone but you have to fight to fight til your death to fight for your beautiful last breath then you can leave this world like a fallen angel with black wings'

The last words of the poem are not readable anymore The Poet was crying because the candle was extinguished in his soul

Like a fallen angel with black wings he leaves the world Forever his words will be alive and somebody will fall in love with them

Words are immortal
and able to reach your heart Words are immortal
and they will never drift apart
Words are immortal
Words are immortal

(In the end you will be alone)
