Makin' it hard on each other

Makin' it hard on yourself

Makin' it hard on me

Makin' it hard on you

...Its all the same (Profound Stevie, profound)

I'm not the one to tell you what to do >

I have no desire to run your life > chorus

Do you thing you know what to do >

Just don't let nobody tell ya no lies >

Could we retire

To a neutral corner

'Cause I'd like a chance

...To make myself...clear...

I said I'm still your friend

I've got a few things I'd love to say

And I'd like to think that you might want to hear...

For instance the...

chorus --

[Then we have strange noises running back and forth;

sometimes dissapearing altogether. I think its dumb but

Ronnie and Dallas got hung up. You should have such a good time. You see, there's this little box and Dallas twisted that knob and Ronnie twisted the other one on a different box and I left the room because I didn't like what I played anyway, and waited for the next verse with the tack piano on it, which I do like, so much in fact I ran back into the room and dove into the speakers only to return again disguised as a bus driver who directed the next...]

chorus --

Blind stubborn pride drove us apart
Can't you see the place we went wrong

You hide in your world

And I'll get lost in mine

[...it's those little boxes with lights and knobs. Green and red and yellow and...]

All we got left is a song

[which has another...]

chorus --

[complete with handlebar mustache.]

When you decide that you'd like to know

What it is that makes a person go

When you decide you believe and you're trustin'

Let somebody open your soul

chorus --

[Then you might notice an outtaside fiddle solo that also runs around a little but Byron Berline is too good a fiddler to be hampered by little knobs and crazy people in the studio...and of course we have our final (I promise)...]
