

Vic Bell

"Bayou Country Cajun Woman Blues"

Visit "Bayou Country Cajun Woman Blues" on MotoLyrics.com

VERSE 1

There once was a woman for a man
A brown eyed Louisiana Acadian
Gumbo cooking mama by his side
His world, his love, his passion and his pride

VERSE 2

He was a wild free running bronco still untamed
Until he heard that Cajun lady say his name
It wasn't long and he was working making plans
To make his home forever Acadian

VERSE 3

Where Spanish moss is hanging from the trees
The cane fields gently swaying to the breeze
The big river and the bayous flow their way
And an a beautiful autumn sunset ends the day

VERSE 4

A Cajun woman's love is warm and kind
Unless she gets a notion to change her mind
You talk about the hard times and paying dues
He's got the bayou country cajun woman blues

VERSE 5

He don't want to eat no crawfish anymore
He don't care if some where in the world there's a war
He don't even want to listen to the news
He's got the bayou country cajun woman blues

Visit Vic Bell page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.