I could still be an actor
I could still be your friend
I could be a shattered pilot
I could pull out to the end

I could still be a writer,
Still get a deadly disease
And miraculously recover
I could still wanna be me

I could still be your mother
I could be myself again
I could still be an actor
I could still be your friend
I could be an organ donor
I could still save someone's life
To burden all sorts of experiments
Put all material on fire

I could still be in danger
I could be safe again
If I can't be your lover
I could still be your friend
I could still be an actor
I could still be an actor

I could still go to convent
Crash a car and survive
I could be taken prisoner
Tortured and stay alive
I could be a heroin addicted
I could still have a choice
I could still be on a mission
I could still die for a cause

I could still be a sailor
I could still climb k2
I could beat every record
I could still try to be true
I could still be in danger
I could be safe again
If I can't be your lover

I could still be your friend
