Things that happen just once
If she'd looked she would have seen it
He was standing all night
'Cross the street, very still

And they go out so easily
The street lamps, the cars come and go

[Incomprehensible]
But I see you too clearly
I don't trust myself anymore
If it's all true, just say it
I may already know

That sound when it's over
The sidewalks will carry you home

And the evening so easily
Agnus, Agnus, Dei
Agnus, Agnus, Dei
Qui tollis peccata mundi
Agnus, Agnus, Dei
