Would you care, to meet me in Sausalito.
We can arrive and then meet incognito.
I'll wear the mask with the cut-out eyes and you can dress like a queen
And we'll meet where the stars and water hold the moon in between.
In Sausalito...
Silver sands fall from your hands and drift on to our feet.
No longer do we search for a place to be complete.
But when the island calls my name, sadly I must return.
But for every moment gone, so my heart will burn for,
Sausalito...
There's a girl for every boy in Sausalito.
There's a child for every toy in Sausalito.
There's a love for every joy in Sausalito.
Sausalito...
