I'm sitting on a railroad station again
It's like I'm living there
I'm always out on the road but I like it
You have time to philosophy and dream
And I wonder and I think I think I think I think I think
Oh why don't we talk anymore?
You never used to be more than 3 meters away-

And I heard that you have met someone else
And I feel that you feel, what you never felt for me
And I thought it was kinda sad because I was kind of pleased

Oh take me back to our good days
Take me back to the times when I did that talking to you
Oh take me back to our good times
When we both laughed
And when we both cried
I want the tingling feeling back again

And I thought you said you wanted me
You wanted us
You wanted everything that I've ever dreamed of
But I will not argue anymore
I will not blame it on myself

Oh take me back to our good days
Take me back to the times when I did that talking to you
Oh take me back to our good times
When we both laughed
And when we both cried
I want the tingling feeling back again

Oh take me back to our good days
Take me back to the times when I wanted to talk to you
