

Defiled, The "In Your Name"

Each moment that I live is a threat upon their sorry lives
I sip outsider's blood to quench my thirst
We're keeping the wolves from reaching your door
Bodies decorate the scene

Deep tracks that carve your rights
Continue to neglect
And live an absent earthbound life
You keep on wanting more

In your name I have done so much more
Then you would ever care to know
I'd disappoint you if you knew all of these dire things
I've done

Locked down in this trench I have come to call my wretched home
Unfolds a story that will not be told
History will no doubt romanticise
Beautiful and clean

Deep tracks that carve your rights
Continue to neglect
And live an absent earthbound life
But still you're craving more

In your name I have done so much more
Then you would ever care to know
I'd disappoint you if you knew all of these dire things
I've done

In your name I have done so much more
Then you would ever care to know
I'd disappoint you if you knew all of these dire things
I've done

In your name I have done so much more
Then you would ever care to know
I'd disappoint you if you knew all of these dire things
I've done
