you burned your way in under my skin when nobody was looking

It's so easy to talk about me
When I'm not around to say

I may not be a man,
but you're not on either
It takes one to know one
Who's calling names, and pointing fingers?
Takes one to know one

you cut me then blame me for bleeding Won't see me begging and pleading

It's so easy to talk about me
When I'm not around to say

I may not be a man,
but you're not on either
It takes one to know one
Who's calling names, and pointing fingers?
Takes one to know one

you tell me what I'm supposed to do, that's funny coming from you you're not a boy not yet a man, never even done time in a van You don't know what you're talkin' about unless somebody called you out tell me am I speaking English, or is this just a deathwish?!

Just because we're face to face Doesn't mean we're eye to eye

I may not be a man
but you're not one either
Takes one to know one
Takes one to know one

It's age before beauty and you go neither
It takes on to know one
