Hey howie, where've you been?
I've been waiting since half past ten
And you know I got no where to go
Unless you take me to that midnight show

You show up but its way to late
Walter's barbeque is hardly a date
I wanna take you up to my room
But you always have to leave to soon

You don't wanna call me no more
You don't wanna call me your girl
So I guess I'll just go to the mall
Cuz I know that you'll never call
You don't wanna call me no more
You don't wanna call me your girl
So I guess I'll just stare at the wall
Cuz I know that you'll never call

Am I not old enough, am I too young?
You think I don't know how to eat dim sun
Or is it that I got no more dough
Cuz I paid your way to the show

It's okay, I guess I don't care
You don't wanna take me anywhere
I'll pretend everythings alright even though you won't call me tonight

You don't wanna call me no more
You don't wanna call me your girl
So I guess I'll just go to the mall
Cuz I know that you'll never call
You don't wanna call me no more
You don't wanna call me your girl
So I guess I'll just stare at the wall
Cuz I know you'll never, ever call

"You don't wanna call me no more
You don't wanna call me your girl"
So I guess I'll just go to the mall

Cuz I know that you'll never call
You don't wanna call me no more
You don't wanna call me your girl
So I guess I'll just stare at the wall
Cuz I know you'll never, ever call

"You don't wanna call me no more
You don't wanna call me your girl"
So I guess I'll just go to the mall
Cuz I know that you'll never call
You don't wanna call me no more
You don't wanna call me your girl
So I guess I'll just stare at the wall
Cuz I know you'll never, ever call

You don't wanna call me no more...
I said You don't wanna call me your girl.
