M: Deep within my heart, I felt the spark to start a fire inside.
Soon before I knew it burned and left me with no place to hide.

Wandering wings so tired, gentle, calm, and yet so beautiful,
Are consumed in flames but its still, so wonderful.

B: Wrapped around your finger from the lips to tongue.

L: And I know they still think were too young.

B: Tangled up inside these beautiful chains,
I know myself, but I feel barely sane.

B: I want to drown in your embrace,
I want to live to see your face,

Gazing back at me, with those loving eyes, and I want you to
Softly call my name, I can tolerate the pain
Please just know that you are what I want,
And I know that's not a mistake.

L: Every moment I find it gets harder to restrain desire
This is love so look upon it, watch as my small flame grows higher.
Soon that feeling so unknown, has spread without and grown and grown
It becomes a burning longing, sweet belonging.

B: If even if I say I want to stray, I don't mean it.

L: I am always drawn like a magnet.

B: Right back to you, I will run and start to cry
I don't know why, but I will till I die

B: There is no happiness but this,
Hanging on a very kiss,
Dreaming of a day, we will never see,
And reality pulls us back again.

Even if I'm just a friend,
I will follow you till the very end,
To the end of eternity!

M: Anxiety arrives with dawn to find my tears.
When you whispered to me its okay dear,

Did I hear a quiver when I heard you say?
Just don't look back, cause this was no mistake.

B: I want to drown in your embrace,
I want to live to see your face,
Gazing back at me, with those loving eyes, and I want you to
Softly call my name, I can tolerate the pain
Please just know that you are what I want,
And I know there's
No happiness but this,
Hanging on a very kiss
Dreaming of a day,
I can almost see.
But I know that,
We can't go back again,
And it may be a sin, but loving you, touching you,
Is all I could ever want.
