"I Love You"

I'm walking dry through a soft summer rain, I'm in love again
Well, Sara's running around the corner and it drains me
It drains me cause she'll never let me see if it's true, that my love would tear everything apart tear it apart, or make her feel like a tart, it's sad, sad , sad...
Because I love you

Pete lost his records in a black jack game, later on he whispered my name
Said, if you see me in the gutter kissing the street would you please turn me around, calm me down, waft away my heat
And so I did, because I love you.

the girl I'd been stalking woke me up at midnight I'd fallen asleep under this towns only light she grabbed my hand, pulled me away, told me about a place,
warm and safe, but we both went astray..
I followed her, because I love you..
