Fritz been treading that liquid sand
While John's been sailing across the land
They run on forever on a empty tank of gas
Flying low over trouble as the good times pass

I put it all together, nothing's gonna bring me down
I put it all together, nothing's gonna break me.

Eve she brought some guns to town
Oh, she would bring you down
I was warming by the devil's fire
Sleeping on the ashes those nights

I put it all together, nothing's gonna bring me down
I put it all together, nothing's gonna break me.

I've been waiting for ever it seems,
would you say, I've been wasting my time?
Chasing ghosts with faint smiling eyes,
they're dead but beautiful, so happy in their sleep.

Hear father George's melody
Of bygone silence and summer's spree
Of midnight suns, and bottles of grain
Through joy and grief, we will love again

I put it all together, nothing's gonna bring me down
I put it all together, nothing's gonna break me.

I've been waiting for ever it seems,
would you say, I've been wasting my time?
Chasing ghosts with faint smiling eyes,
they're dead but beautiful, so happy in their sleep.
