"Stranger's Night"

Smoke lay thick we're moving towards the light stages burning, oh, you look so dark this time I said I like you, in the strangers night
I said I like you, as rain in sight

No control in the masquerade lane, I wonder how did we ever get this far, see, the black lights up ahead wonder what you are No fear in the wakening nights, I wonder how did we ever get this far, see the black lights up ahead electric sundown on us now

Remote plastic, babe, you look so right inhale the scent of two, let's dream without a fright
I said I like you, in the strangers night
I said I like you, as rain in sight.
