Oh I've just been downtown I've spread the talk around That I'm glad you're gone I'm better off by myself I've made them all believe I'm glad that you don't want me
Oh how many lies can I tell How many lies can I tell when I know so well that I'm hurtin' no one but myself I'll find me someone new I never really cared for you oh how many lies can I tell [steel]
I'm glad you're not around I'll find me someone else
I don't feel let down I count no love for you left I'll never sit and grieve your memory won't haunt me oh
how many lies can I tell
How many lies...
Oh how many lies can I tell
