Drinking beer talking loud hanging round with a no good crowd
There's no reason to be living since you're gone
Living fast neon lights spending many restless nights
There's no reason to be living since you're gone
You didn't know you've had the power to wreck a good man's life
I cry dear every hour and can't sleep a wink at night Lost my job got no friends I guess that soon my life would end
There's no reason to be living since you're gone
[piano - guitar]
You didn't know you've had the power...
There's no reason to be living since you're gone
