you who made my life bitter as u stop loving me

please dear back to see me after this absent please me i swear in god that my tears get dry blaming

may god brings back our happiness and laughter and our home filled in smile and happiness we spent life with some friend stays and other lefts and the life lost between absence and farness if someday i get ur letter and if u let me know about you i'll make my heart sing up for you and i'll prostrate worshipping god
