You say, we're already over it
So then panic leaves
Cause I'd be sick and lonely
If I ever let you go
Your fine, every scar is fading out of sight
As you start again, I'll be ever so willing
If you need a hand

When rising waves interrupted your sailing
You never had to be afraid
Blinding fear, screaming here on knees alone
Someone hear's our words
And heaven want's you to stay awake
Just stay awake

You know
That you're already over it
Whatever the future brings
Hold to heaven so closely it will never change

It's bright and new
The mystery of the everafter
So wonder through and reach out
The sky is in bloom
