If I were blind
Would it all come down to this?
Would you still love me?

And if I were wrong
Would it still be the same fade to black
As I reach for you?

Falling, falling away, I am falling
Falling away from love again

If there were time
To say everything and no more
Although it's indistinct

And if there were days
And nights alone, again
Would you still reach for me?

Falling, falling away, I am falling
Falling away from love again

Because if you were blind
It would all come down to this
I would still love you

And if you were wrong
It would still be
The same fade to black

'Cause I am falling, falling in love, I am falling
Falling in love with you again
