Because everything had to be a happy end
I began to say that nothing is about love Intelligent and lovely persons, like those films we watched on TV
Intelligent and lovely women, like we watched on TV
Those murders during the night, stupid life, drugs of all kind
Do you wanna see me like them?

So tell me baby please, are you near? Are you near?
So tell me baby please, are you near? Are you near?
So tell me one more time, are you near? Are you near?
So tell me one more time, are you near? Are you near?

Sometimes I know you're not as I wish
And I look at your window, there's a light, something in...
I pass by and buzz around your corner
The telephone rings, you didn't answer... please

So tell me baby please, are you near? Are you near?
I beg you one more time, are you near? Are you near?
Tell me one more time, are you near? Are you near?
So scream at your window and tell me that you're near...

And I wonder if you told me that... like in "Lost in Translation" - please do that!
They look at those neon lights, the love on their face
And loving all life, loving or lie, just one more lie...

Tell me baby please, are you near? Are you near?
So tell me baby please, are you near?
Cause I don't know, are you near? Are you near?
So open your fucking mouth, are you near?

And I
Love you more
Love you more
Cause you're near
Cause you're near
