[M: Wennerquist, L: Persson]

Darkness has covered the sky
And there is something in the air
There's something about to take place
That will change many human fates

Time to walk the lonely path to shadows
Fear is starting to creep deep inside
Is this real or just imagination
All will be answered in time

In silence they started to walk
Guided by men that's wearing arms
With violence they're leading the way
That will lead to their final end

Time to walk the lonely path to shadows
Fear is starting to creep deep inside
Is this real or just imagination
All will be answered in time

So it is time, can not deny
It's not a dream, but deadly real

There comes a time, when all questions will be clear
There comes a time, when we don't feel no fear
There comes a time, when we meet the ones we love
There comes a time, when all answers will be shown

Far from the shadows, far from the pain
Far from all misery, when you meet your destiny

Feels like it's all but a dream
Hoping they soon will wake up
It's crazy it cannot be real
Stop this madness and set them free

But no one could hear their silent prayers
This wickedness have gone to far
A lonely cry echoes inside
Their agonizing hearts

There comes a time, when all questions will be clear
There comes a time, when we don't feel no fear
There comes a time, when we meet the ones we love
There comes a time, when all answers will be shown

Far from the shadows, far from the pain
Far from all misery, when you meet your destiny

As they were reaching the hill
What they saw was too much to cope
They fell to their knees and cried
Aware that it's time to die
The smell of blood and burned flesh
Nearly drove them inside
One by one they were slaughtered
Cheered by the bloodthirsty crowd

Burn! Burn! Burn!
Please lord, welcome their souls

[Solo: Jacob]

So it is time, can not deny
It's not a dream, but deadly real

There comes a time, when all questions will be clear
There comes a time, when we don't feel no fear
There comes a time, when we meet the ones we love
There comes a time, when all answers will be shown

Far from the shadows, far from the pain
Far from all misery, when you meet your destiny
