The last year was one lost year of my life
I loved her, but this was the worst thing I could ever do
Now that I'm free, I know that this one lost year
Was a year without faith and freedom

I saw no light in this unequal game
But now I try to forget all this pain

This is me and this is you
There is nothing else to do
Time is on my side
And you know I'll win this fight
This is me and this is you
There is nothing else to do
I know you are a fake
But your might will leave today

You can't deny
That all you tried
Was to fill my head with lies

I spit on you
And I despise your face
And all you can do
Is to plead for my grace

We go different ways
And my way is just clear
My life ain't grey
You were just one lost tear

I don't give a fuck about you and all we had together Because my life is much more important than a painful experience
Now my eyes are open for the new things that fate will bring me
Because my strength is the time and till the time is over there have to be many lost years
