Only emptiness in me
A coming end I could not see All the time I ask myself why

All the stars for just one night
slowly fade away their lights
All your words to me passed by

For the first time I see clearly what you really mean to me
We were always without fear
But I didn't feel free

The failures in my life I can not stop! I really can't deny if I look in your eyes Nothing real of you remains This pain is driving me insane walking on an endless way...

Forced by black spirits inside Every time I had to fight hoping I will win one day

All the stars for just one night
slowly fade away their lights
But your light is shining bright
But your light is shining inside!
