Do you remember when,
When everything was so simple and fun back then?
But now the times have changed.
Now you're pissed off at me almost everyday.
You sold me out and I don't understand why you turned your back to me.
You keep on talking shit and Im sure that you'll fuck up everything.
Stars wont shine tonight.
I don't want to fight.
Its in your hands to compromise to make things right.
I want to know.
There used to be a day where there was no need to watch every word I say.
And now that times have changed now you're pissed off at me almost everyday.
I want to know.
