My thick skin is slowly peeling
You can almost see my soul
How can I expect to heal when
You have left me so exposed

Torn 'cause I need you
Worn down 'cause I can't free you

I, I'm in the depth of your despair
I, I fear your empty stare
Don't deny 'cause you know that when I'm gone
Ruin is the road you'll be on

The simple times have all been taken
Replaced by bitterness and shame
You keep shaken', you're achin' and breaking down
Will it ever be the same

Now I know you need me
So why am I at your mercy?

I, I'm in the depth of your despair
I, I fear your empty stare
Don't deny 'cause you know that when I'm gone
Ruin is the road you'll be on

I can't stop you but I need to
What else can I do now

I, I'm in the depth of your despair
I, I fear your empty stare
Don't deny, you know that when I'm gone
Ruin is the road you'll be on, yeah

[Incomprehensible]
Yeah yeah yeah yeah
