Here's a valentine for you, my sweet young thing I'll try a verse of "Love Me Do", yeah I know that I can't sing
I really took this thing and ran, and we've both done the best we can
But you see I'm no Superman

What I've got to say is not pretty Somehow the lock and key is not fitting What I've got to say is not pretty, it's not pretty

Now I've met your mom and dad, and they like me a lot
The family dog didn't bark that bad, no that's not the complaint I've got The picnics in your own backyard, memories I will not discard
But we're both trying way too hard

It's not really more than the doubt inside
It can't be seen but you just can't hide it You said yourself that you're so lonely Even as my one and only

You know my love for you is great, and yours I do appreciate
Now before it gets too late...
