Just like a bee rushing to a comb of honey

Why can't you see you look so very funny

You worry yourself sick till you're blue in the face

Relax and sleep, tomorrow isn't leaving

And counting your sheep won't relieve you from this grieving

You worry yourself sick till you're blue in the face

But you'll make ends meet I know you will so please pull up a chair

Take your time the world's not going anywhere

Honey, you worry yourself sick till you're blue in the face

Blue in the face

'Cause you're always in a hurry

Blue in the face

'Cause you always tend to worry

You're just like a honey bee, you panic, you sting, then you die

It's just like you to fret like you do

So take the afternoon and maybe someday soon

You won't have to worry yourself sick till you're blue in the face

But you'll make ends meet I know you will so please pull
up a chair

And take your time the world's not going anywhere

Honey, you worry yourself sick till you're blue in the face

Blue in the face

'Cause you're always in a hurry

Blue in the face

'Cause you always tend to worry

You're just like a honey bee, you panic, you sting, then you die

You're just like a honey bee zap!...

Oh, when you're in a state of mind they call anxiety

And you find it very necessary to pull out your hair

Don't be discouraged

Oh, honey have courage

Don't worry yourself sick till you're blue in the face

Like always you worry till you're blue in the face

Honey why worry yourself sick till you're blue in the face

You're always in a hurry

Blue in the face

You always tend to worry

Cause you're just like a honey bee, you panic, you sting, then you die

Just like a honey bee

Blue in the face

You got no time to waste

Slow down the pace

You're turning blue, blue, blue

Blue in the face

You got no time to waste

Slow down the pace

You're turning blue
