All I've ever touched or said to them

Becomes a rehearsal for you

Just practice

Too many magic moments

To be coincidence

It all comes full circle

I met someone who knew you

And he introduced me to you

Your ex-girlfriend had a boyfriend

Who kissed my girlfriend

Who dated Adrian

The world keeps on getting smaller, and smaller

And everything comes back

Full circle, full circle

Six degrees of separation

We all know someone else

It all comes full circle

And you come from England

My ex-boyfriend he is Indian

British passport we're all connected

And everyone else is affected

The world keeps on getting smaller, and smaller
And everything comes back
Full circle, full circle
Six degrees of separation
We all know someone else
It all comes full circle
The world keeps on getting smaller, and smaller
And everything comes back
Full circle, full circle
Six degrees of separation
We all know someone else
It all comes full circle
The world keeps on getting smaller, and smaller
And everything comes back
Full circle, full circle
Six degrees of separation
We all know someone else
It all comes full circle
