His accent serenades me and presses at the door

Broken promise to be around for my mind war

And my accomplishment's interrogating me

Today's become tomorrow before I wanted it to be

And desperate discussions

The start of the destruction

Our sign, in my mind

I'll be fine

I'll be fine

'Cause I'm under construction everyone

So you'll have to mind the mess

I'm under some construction

I always had to try harder, I never really could keep up

Sitting in the corner with my illness and bad luck

But in this humble place I'm feeling like red wine

And I hope to get better with some time

I'll be fine

With some time

I'll be fine

'Cause I'm under construction everyone

So you'll have to mind the mess

I'm under some construction

Construction

Modification

Motivation

Of construction

And the rituals that soothe and disgust me will be gone

With some time

I'll be fine

With some time

I'll be fine

I'll be fine

I'm under construction everyone

So you'll have to mind the mess

I'm under some construction

I'm under construction everyone

So you'll have to mind the mess

I'm under some construction

Under construction

Construction

Feel better with some construction
