And they will remember the sight
And they will remember the pain
And they will remember that night
And they will never forget this thing

Wash it away
Cut it off
It's easier said
Said than done

And they will remember the sight
And they will remember the pain
And they will remember that night
And they will never forget this thing

Fucked to death
Slept it off
It's harder done
Done than said

And they will remember the sight
And they will remember the pain
And they will remember that night
And they will never forget this thing
