Sometimes I wish I could take a day off and stay alone in bed

As I light up one of my vanilla flavoured cigarettes
And then I think of how my mum's forehead wrinkles when she's mad
If I stay here I'll so be dead

How does it feel to get across the border?
I ask myself what has the world to offer?

I don't get surprised and nothing's new in life
I am stuck inside my own little bubble
I don't get surprised and nothing's new in life
I am gonna leave my own little bubble

So I stepped inside a dirty man's car to search for excitement
Down south is where I wane go yeah I'll drive and read the map
"Miss, it ain't save for you to travel alone" is what he said
Do I look like I care 'bout that?

How does it feel to get across the border?
I ask myself what has the world to offer?

I don't get surprised and nothing's new in life
I am stuck inside my own little bubble
I don't get surprised and nothing's new in life
I am gonna leave my own little bubble

My own little bubbleâ€¦
My own little bubbleâ€¦

I don't get surprised and nothing's new in life
I am stuck inside my own little bubble
I don't get surprised and nothing's new in life
I am gonna leave my own little bubble

I don't get surprised and nothing's new in life
I am stuck inside my own little bubble

I don't get surprised and nothing's new in life
I am gonna leave my own little bubble

I don't get surprised and nothing's new in life
I am stuck inside my own little bubble
I don't get surprised and nothing's new in life
I am gonna leave my own little bubble
