If I could stay awake for awhile
I would be another morning
Don't wanna fall asleep now when
Everything seems so far and beyond

Walking down a familiar road
But the darkness is misleading me
I know I should feel fear inside
But still the shadows is where I wanna be

Just an ordinary day
Stealing all the hope away
Wanting me to be the one
Who has dreams made of clay

Ohh, fading confused mind
Ohh, creating phrases unknown

I know I shouldn't stay awake
If I fall asleep they just might find me
Now all is so clear
I can finally proceed

Just an ordinary day
Stealing all the hope away
Wanting me to be the one
Who has dreams made of clay

Ohh, fading confused mind
Ohh, creating phrases unknown

Waiting for the dawn
Soon to arrive
So few options that I have
And I can use

Life's circumstances
Can be so cruel
If I take a chance I just might
Make the wrong move
