You found the truth again
I showed the way
The path of wisdom
Is the only way to reality

You learned to live your life
The hard way
Your tears put out the fire
From your soul

Lost behind the lies
I can hear your cries
Now is the time to rise
Again so strong

Learn from the past
But better make it fast
The time is running out
For you to change your life

You must learn to live
There's so much more to give
Set fire to your soul again
And be the rebel, hold your head up proud

Learn from the past
But better make it fast
The time is running out
For you to change your life

You must learn to live
There's so much more to give
Set fire to your soul again
And be the rebel, hold your head up proud
The rebel, hold your head up proud
