You cheat me once
You won't ever cheat me twice
I'll leave you right where I found you
It was fun
When it was new
Things got just too damn dull for you
I don't need none of your childish games
I can't take them silly lies again

I got better things to do than you
You won't ever break my heart
I got better things to do than you
You won't ever break my heart

Please don't cry
'Cause it'll be over soon
And you will learn from your mistakes
No I won't cry
I won't shed a single tear
This ain't the first time I've been here
Just know you're wrong, and dry those eyes
'Cause this ain't coming as no surprise.

'Cause I got better things to do than you
You won't ever break my heart
I got better things to do than you
You won't ever break my heart

I got better things to do than you
You won't ever break my heart
I got better things to do than you
You won't ever break my heart
