"Empty Heart"

You are here
You never left me
I've been wasting all my time
If I could try to make you disappear
What good would I be inside my empty head

Inside my empty heart inside my empty mind
I have a place for you a place for you to hide
Inside my empty heart love is hard to find
I have a place for you a place for you to hide

It's not over yet the fun has just begun
The winner takes it all and I'm the one who's won
When you fall I want to be sure that you stay down
When you scream for help I'll be the only one around

Inside my empty heart inside my empty mind
I have a place for you a place for you to hide
Inside my empty heart love is hard to find
I have a place for you a place for you to hide

Inside my empty heart inside my empty mind
I have a place for you a place for you to hide
Inside my empty heart love is hard to find
I have a place for you a place for you to Die

Inside my empty heart inside my empty mind
I have a place for you a place for you to hide
Inside my empty heart love is hard to find
I have a place for you a place for you to Die
