Shame and anger in his mind
They torture and this shit's unkind
Everyone pointed and laughed
Growing up this kid in school was everybody's hatred tool
His suicidal thoughts would always pass

There's just one thing I want to know
When you have nowhere to go
How many times did you stand and cry?
Through thick and thin you made it through
While no one even cared for you
How many times did you want to die?

A new school was your second chance
But when she ripped your underpants
Your parents wonder why you're so withdrawn
They terrorized your neighborhood
You did everything you could Still you got beat up on your front lawn

There's just one thing I want to know
When you have nowhere to go
How many times did you stand and cry?
Through thick and thin you made it through
While no one even cared for you
How many times did you want to die?

Do you remember back in high school
That kid we all picked on?
No one backed him, ever liked him
He carries that with him today

There's just one thing I want to know
When you have nowhere to go
How many times did you stand and cry?
Through thick and thin you made it through
While no one even cared for you
How many times did you want to die?

Tell me how many times did you want to die?
How many times did you stand and cry?
