Like Bob said the times are a changing
Unfortunately for us boss man's rearranging
Doesn't care about your wife and kids
But only the gold that is his

Won't hear eleventh hour underbids Or part with the assets that he thinks are his Only knows how to downsize He'll see an increase by losing you

Not even aware that his moral code has died

Unions and the law, what's wrong with being treated fairly
Unions and the law, we've got to defend ourselves
somehow

Society's a much faster place now Seems like protest lost out somehow I once heard a composer sing
I can't stand up for falling down

Got to rise up and be accounted for Maybe that sentiment will arrive Back in town but only time Itself will reveal this concept

In ending this rant we'll stay idealistic

Unions and the law, what's wrong with being treated
fairly
Unions and the law, we've got to defend ourselves
somehow
Unions and the law, they got to come back stronger
today
Unions and the law, we've got to defend ourselves
somehow

Like Bob said the times are a changing
Unfortunately for us boss man's rearranging
Doesn't care about your wife and kids
But only the gold that is his

Unions and the law, what's wrong with being treated
fairly
Unions and the law, we've got to defend ourselves
somehow
Unions and the law, they got to come back stronger
today
Unions and the law, we've got to defend ourselves
somehow
