Welcome to the dream come true
Just like your favorite movie only better.
So much to say, but why bother
There's too many pretty things to feel.

I can't think of anyone I'd rather share this with
Thank you for being who you are
You're meant to be here, digging this trip with me
So let's keep digging.

For once, a grand day
And I don't want to let go
The planets are finally aligned

We're the pilots of a streamlined soul
Where new life flows
Deep in the sky we leave fading trails
Beneath the blue they show

I can't think of anyone I'd rather share this with
Thank you for being who you are
You're meant to be here, digging this trip with me
So let's keep digging.
