Well, here you are
Same story all over again
You're wondering why
You don't even know where you've been

Sitting all alone now
Those walls keep closing in
You're searching for something
You never satisfied in the end

Here you go, starts again
Those black clouds are hanging over you my friend

So many choices to make
Which road will you take?
Now the trap is set
Waiting on your next move

What's it gonna be my friend?
Will you win or will you lose?
It's yours to make now
And which road will you choose?

Here you go, starts again
Those black clouds are hanging over you my friend

I often wonder
Which spell you are living under?
Did you always think
That your life would end this way?

Here you go, starts again
Those black clouds are hanging over you my friend

Those black clouds
And those black clouds
And those black clouds

Breathe in breathe out
What's it all about?
Breathe in breathe out
Come on you can let it out

Breathe in breathe out
What's it all about?
Breathe in breathe out
Come on you can let it out

Well, here you are
Same story all over again
You're wondering why
You don't even know where you've been

Sitting all alone now
Those walls keep closing in
You're searching for something
You never satisfied in the end, the end
