I had a dream last night, the best I've ever dreamed
And when I woke I realized, it was better than it seemed Skin like velvet, eyes of blue
My fears and dreams collided and came true

One life born and two lives changed
Life as I once knew it, will never be the same
What makes me worth it, I'll never know
But I'll take the time to watch this flower grow

Build this foundation to fortify my soul
Allow me to grow

One life born and two lives changed
Life as I once knew it, will never be the same

I wouldn't trade our sleepless nights
And I wouldn't trade our endless days
For the ransom of a king and I won't waste our time away
I won't let it slip away, slip away, dreams away
