Dig deep inside my mind I know, I can't forget you
Reality and rawness I find, I know this is truth
Stripped of all my pretense, I feel so lost and naked
With your tenderness for love, I can make it

Confusion, fear consumes my thoughts, the things I say and do
It's all difficult because I'm not with you, I'm not with you

I know that I'm growing
Sometimes I slip and now I'm slowing down
Please help me and please show me
So I can stop slipping and slowing down

Here we are sitting miles apart
We turn the page, we're afraid to start
Here we are sitting miles apart
We turn the page, we're afraid to start

Dig deep inside my mind I know, I can't forget you
Reality and rawness I find, I know this is truth
Stripped of all my pretense, I feel so lost and naked
With your tenderness for love, I can make it

Confusion, fear consumes my thoughts, the things I
say and do
It's all difficult because I'm not with you, I'm not with
you

I know that I'm growing
Sometimes I slip and now I'm slowing down
Please help me and please show me
So I can stop slipping and slowing down

Here we are sitting miles apart
We turn the page, we're afraid to start
Here we are sitting miles apart
We turn the page, we're afraid to start

So here we are sitting miles apart
We turn the page, afraid to start

So here we are sitting miles apart
We turn the page, afraid to start

Here we are sitting miles apart
(Dig deep inside my mind I know, I can't forget you)
We turn the page, afraid to start
(Reality and rawness I find, I know this is truth)
Here we are sitting miles apart
(Stripped of all my pretense, I feel so lost and naked)
We turn the page, afraid to start
(With your tenderness for love, I can make it)
