Let's go

We've come a long way through the good and bad
And it's so much more than what it seems
Sometimes I take it for granted

We've come a long way through the good and bad
And it's so much more than what it seems
Sometimes I take it for granted, I take it for granted

One, two, three, go

Which way will the wind blow?
I don't know if you will ever know
How much this means to me

So let me take this opportunity to say
Thank you for what you've given to me
Thank you for what you've given to me

There's no telling how long things will ever last Let's not forget the memories, the memories of our past
