I'm rising, rising again
This time on my own
This time on my own

Breaking away from myself Letting it go, all that I hung on to Gaining comfort through uncertainty Cutting ties with reason and security New horizons are all that I see Crushing doubt and all that stands in front of me

I've got to make this change and I've got to do it now
I'm rising again, I won't fall down, I won't fall
I've got to make this change and I've got to do it now
I'm rising again, I won't fall down, I won't fall down

Self-doubt has brought me down, it's kicking me in the back
Tied my hands and bound my legs, now there's no turning back
Sun is burning my face, wind is blowing at my back Pushing forward inspite of myself

I've got to make this change and I've got to do it now
I'm rising again, I won't fall down, I won't fall
I've got to make this change, I've got to do it now
I'm rising again, I won't fall down, I won't fall down

Like a train that holds the rail, never losing the track Pushing forward inspite of you
I know what I have to do, I'm gonna rise again I'm gonna rise again, I'm gonna rise again

I'm rising, rising again Self doubt has brought me down and it's kicking me in the back
Tied my hands and bound my legs, now there's no
turning back
Sun is burning my face, wind is blowing at my back again Pushing forward in spite of myself, pushing forward in spite of myself

Sun is burning my face, wind is blowing at my back
again
Pushing forward in spite of myself, pushing forward in spite of myself
