"Inner Struggle"

You condemn me for this life I chose,
Just look at yourself and all those afflicted by your views.
You continue to act as if so pure,
When you just add to the problem excluding the real cure- the real cure...
I don't need it anymore.
You try and act but really ignore.
The true battle lies inside my friend,
And you'll change nothing until the inner struggle end-
inner struggle.
Now you attack me with your shots,
That's alright I've got more than what you've got.
You'll change nothing until that shit stops.
I said you'll change nothing until the inner struggle is fought
Until it's fought...I won't succumb.
I'll keep myself above the hate, set myself apart.
