I can feel it coming and I'm telling you my friend, that the lives we are wasting effect the whole in the end. The apathetic lives we lead, they're so easy to be seen. I know the time is coming for intense suffering. Begin to care. I know it's taken me a while.
Now I see it's time for this generation to at least try, to wake to the reality of our constant negativity. Redevelop the goals so as to benefit the whole. Begin to care. The blatant disregard is simply confining the arms, that are struggling to keep us up.
The lifeline is slowly being cut. Begin to care...
