We get torn apart

All our lives

Told that we're useless or gifted

Loved or despised

Too many generations passed

And passing

But all their progress

Lost it's meaning

We call it evolution

You call it a crime

But as we run

From your culture

You're running out of time

Self immolation?

Just to keep you warm tonight

(Passing through)

How far could this world go

To reject you

I - will not fall in line

I - will not break in time

We can rebuild this,

Beyond

All our lives
